

ABSTRACT

This invention relates to a method for preparing a drug-lipid complex that does not have a captured volume or a drug-containing liposome. The method includes dispersing a drug and one or more phospholipids in an aqueous solution to obtain a mixture and grinding
5 the mixture with a mechanic means to obtain a drug-lipid complex that does not have a captured volume or a drug-containing liposome.

20785220.doc